Country Inns & B&B's of Old Orchard Beach

Old Orchard Beach, Maine: Old Orchard Beach is best known for its 7-mile beach with oceanfront lodging properties. Sophisticated travelers might be surprised to learn that Old Orchard Beach is also home to some of Maine's finest and most historic bed and breakfasts in the state of Maine. Bed and Breakfasts offer a unique stay, a more intimate accommodation with quaint cozy surroundings and the hospitality of an innkeeper. Old Orchard Beach has several Inns and Bed & Breakfasts that fit that fine niche, and they fit the bill too with affordable packages particularly during spring, fall, and even winter stays.

Lodging at a traditional Inn or B&B provides guests with little extras that make a big impression. Staying at an Inn often includes a bountiful breakfast, a great start to a day of exploring Maine's coast or just another day at the Beach. Inns are uniquely decorated; each room is individually themed to provide guests with the comforts of home combined with the whimsical personality of a great escape. Several of the Inns in Old Orchard Beach are located on the 7-mile beach and most rooms have air conditioning, cable TV and other modern amenities discerning inn guests have come to expect. Other Inns are a short walk or drive to the Town Center, the famous beach and the lively Pier.

"Maine is quite famous for its exceptional hospitality at Inns and B&B's. Old Orchard Beach has several lovely Inns and Bed and Breakfasts that provide guests with that special stay, with service above and beyond the basic room," commented James Harmon, Old Orchard Beach Chamber of Commerce Executive Director. "Some families that vacation here in the summer decide to returning off-season without the kids to stay at one of our Inns for a romantic retreat by the sea. Some visit for a shopping getaway around the holidays. Kennebunkport's shops, Cabela's and The Old Port of Portland are all just 15 minutes away and L.L. Bean in Freeport is just 20 minutes beyond that. The off-season rates are great value and our beautiful beach is refreshing and romantic to stroll in any season."
